

COACHING STAFF

DANIELLE STINES HEAD COACH

Danielle Stines begins her first season as the head coach of the Menlo College softball team.

Stines brings an impressive playing and coaching resume to the Oaks' program. Last season, Stines served as head coach at Foothill Community College where two of her players earned All-Conference honors.

Prior to that stint, she served one year as interim head coach at Cal State University - East Bay, racking up a 26-9 record, while helping one of her players earn NCAA Division III Independent Player of the Year. From 2003-05, Stines served as the CSUH's assistant coach where the team accumulated a 79-27-2 overall record. The 2004 team finished their stellar season with a loss in the NCAA West Region playoffs.

After graduating from CSUH Stines served one year as an assistant for her alma mater under the direction of Karen Yoder, the current head coach at UC Davis. The Pioneers of CSUH were the California Pacific Conference Champions after posting an undefeated conference record. The team finished their outstanding season as NAIA Regional runner-ups. Stines then moved to the East Coast to be an assistant at two NCAA Division I universities, Elon University (NC) and University of North Carolina-Greensboro.

Collegiately, Stines was a two-time 1st team All-West Region selection (NCAA Division II first year and NAIA in the second year) while playing for CSUEB where she currently holds the single season homerun record. She was also selected Cal Pac Co-Player of the Year her senior year. Stines played for Moorpark Junior College prior to transferring to CSUH.

ANDREA ENNIS ASSISTANT COACH

In her second year working along side Coach Stines, Andrea Ennis enters her first season as the Lady Oaks assistant coach.

A graduate of Cal State University - Hayward (now Cal State East Bay), Ennis earned her bachelors and masters in Kinesiology. She was a four-year starter for the Pioneers and was selected All-West Region at the NCAA DII level her senior year. Ennis broke numerous records during her career and still holds several, including the doubles record at 53.

Ennis currently lives in Hayward and is a Physical Education Teacher at Stonebrae Elementry School in Hayward Unified School System.
